How Hemp Fabrics are Made

Why Support Hemp Fabrics ?

Knowing how to make hemp fabric isn't enough; you need to understand the global narrative around hemp as an environment-friendly crop.

Hemp fabrics completely block UV rays so that your skin stays protected against these cancer-causing rays. Without making you sweat, because the fabric is so breathable.

Hemp also needs much less water than cotton, yields more fabric, and needs no pesticides. In addition, hemp helps top-soil preservation. Remnant leaves and flowers make the soil more fertile.
